KTM Stakeholders

Julienne Jagdeo, PhD

Stakeholders in Knowledge Mobilization: Who They Are and How They Help Move Evidence into Action

Dr. Julienne Jagdeo is a Health Sector Manager at Genome BC, where she uses her background in science communication, policy research and project management to mobilize scientific knowledge and create partnerships aimed at applying genomics in health care. Julienne is also a co-founder of Cofactor Conversation Lab, a Vancouver-based non-profit organization that uses knowledge mobilization strategies to support individuals and organizations raising awareness and engagement around complex societal challenges.
